BYU MENTORING NEWSLETTER, SPRING 2005

>> The Past and the Future

Sean Taylor, now earning his PhD at Yale with the aid of a $185,000 fellowship, attributes his accomplishments to the fine instruction received during his mentoring experience with Dr. Michael Whiting at BYU.

“I am indebted to the efforts of my mentor, and I now recognize that these recourses have been provided through the generosity of friends and donors to the university. Thank you for your generosity.”
